Mourning for British Empire
Partially Suspended For Proclamation

Procession Moves Through
London Streets; Crowds
Throng Streets

LONDON, Jan. 22.—(INS)—The brilliant pageantry of a new reign, the reign of a young king, already dubbed the "flying king," began with mourning partially suspended today for the public proclamation that Edward VIII is now the "only rightful liege-lord" of a quarter of the globe.

In the medieval setting of Friary Court, St. James's Palace, the ceremony began at 10 a. m., to be repeated throughout the Empire, when Sir Gerald Wollaston, resident in the gaudy garb of Garter King of Arms, shouted the proclamation drafted at yesterday's Privy Council.

The procession then moved on through streets veiled with hundreds who pushed to get a view of the procession, which then moved throughout the Strand to Temple Bar, reading the proclamation, and then into the City of London proper where the news was intoned from the steps of the Royal Exchange.

Long before dawn, a crowd, mostly composed of women with camp stools and vacuum flasks, began gathering for a scene of the medieval ceremony. The wintry sky was clear, but a chill wintry blast blew through near-by St. James's Park when the Garter King appeared on the balcony of the Turret Palace and spoke through loudspeakers: "Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to call our late sovereign—we do act in state and content obedience to Edward VIII."

SANDRINGHAM, Jan. 22.—(INS)—King George today belonged to the homely English folk of the English countryside he loved so well. The monarch who walked with common men yet kept his kinglyness lay in a simple oaken casket in his woodland church. A modest brass plate on the coffin contained the numerous names the King must carry to his grave and the dates of his birth and death.

Tomorrow in London will come the impressive public mourning with the sad splendor of an empire playing taps

Alice V. Lippincott Dies;
Taught Here for 47 Years

Miss Alice V. Lippincott, for nearly 47 years a teacher in the public schools of Bristol, died in Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia, this morning, after a short illness.

The late Miss Lippincott, who resided at 329 Radcliffe street, was elected a teacher in the primary grades, Bath street school, in June, 1889. At the time of her death she was principal of Wood street public school, and teacher of the seventh grade. She was known and revered by a large percentage of Bristol residents, and had had the pleasure of teaching two generations in some families. She was a member of Bristol M. E. Church.

Dr. G. Floyd Zimmerman
Speaks at Hulmeville

HULMEVILLE, Jan. 22.—The attendance at the monthly meeting of the Lower Bucks County Methodist Ministerium, conducted in Neshaminy M. E. Church, yesterday morning, approximated 15, the group including pastors and their wives. The pastor of the hostess church, the Rev. T. William Smith, welcomed the guests, and introduced the speakers.

The session was presided over by the Rev. William R. Ridington, Morrisville; with the Rev. Francis Thomas, of Yardley, serving as secretary. The devotions were conducted by the Rev. Henry Cunningham, pastor of Langhorne Presbyterian Church.

The subject of Dr. G. Floyd Zimmerman, dean of the theological department of Temple University, was "Religious Education for Our Time." A discussion which followed the address was participated in by many of those present.

At the conclusion of the meeting a turkey dinner was served in Epworth Hall by members of the local Ladies Aid Society, Mrs. Ashbel Buckman being chairman of the committee.

The next meeting of the association will be held in Morrisville M. E. Church, on Tuesday, February 18th.

CLAIM GANGSTER HAD
COPY OF RANSOM NOTE

Such Said To Be Circulated
Through Underworld Before
Letters Reached Lindbergh

AFFIDAVIT IS HELD

By Kenneth T. Downs
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 22.—(INS)—A photostatic copy of the first Lindbergh ransom note—key to the State's murder case against Bruno Richard Hauptmann—was in the hands of a notorious public enemy and was circulated through the underworld before any of the subsequent ransom letters went into the mails.

This information—sensational, if true—is contained in an affidavit in the hands of Governor Harold G. Hoffman today, it was learned by International News Service.

Colonel Lindbergh, himself, delivered the photostatic copy to the underworld figure before even Dr. John F. "Jafie" Condon entered the case, according to the sworn statement.

If the affidavit's charge can be proved, it may upset the case against Hauptmann, persons close to the Governor said.

For it will be remembered that the State depended on its contention that Hauptmann alone could have written that original note to prove that he was in the Lindbergh nursery on the murder night, March 1, 1932.

Two other striking facts will be recalled:

(1) That the State had difficulty proving that Hauptmann's handwriting was the same as the handwriting of that first note; and

(2) That Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the State Police, testified that the note was never out of the possession of himself or his right-hand man, Capt. John J. Lamb, from the night of the kidnapping until the baby's body was discovered 10 weeks later.

Handwriting experts at the trial used only one word out of the original note to picture Hauptmann as its author. The word was "is." They used many words and phrases to tie him to the subsequent notes. They explained this by saying that Hauptmann "disguised" his writing in the first note.

If Hauptmann's lawyers can prove the truth of the assertions in the affidavit, the conclusion they will point out is obvious—that underworld figures may have forged the writing of the original note in a deliberate ransom hoax. This would upset the State's contention that the murder and ransom hoax were part of the same crime, committed by one man.

Doylestown Council Plans
For A Borough Lock-Up

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 22.—Minus a borough lockup, something that Doylestown has never needed, Council has authorized an inspection of several rooms in Lenape Hall with a view of establishing a lockup for "over night guests," who are on the increase.

The Bucks County Commissioners have issued an order preventing further lodging of over-nighters in the Bucks County Prison on a commitment. So out of common courtesy Council will have to secure a permanent lockup.

Chief of Police James P. Welsh stated yesterday that 101 "over nighters" were lodged in 1935 and twice as many were turned away. The proposed site for the new lockup is located in the central section of the borough and it will cost the borough about 50 cents a night to keep "over nighters," including a light "feed" in the morning.

SERVANTS OF THE PUBLIC

What is true of Quakertown, applies to many a borough. There are public officials who have, and are devoting much time, effort and energy because of civic pride.

Quakertown borough has a Solicitor who has served in that capacity for eighteen years, a secretary who has done his duty for seventeen years, a treasurer who has given twelve years, and a street commissioner who has labored in that capacity for almost as long a period.

In addition, there have been, and are, Councilmen and School Directors who have served long and well in their respective offices.

All honor and respect to these gentlemen who have given their time and talent for the welfare and progress of their town by virtue of their serving on its various governing bodies.

It is easy enough to criticize, but the people should take "time off" now and then to pay tribute to those who represent them and conduct the borough's affairs.

They are deserving of it.

The above editorial appeared in a recent issue of the Quakertown Free Press. It is both pertinent and timely, and the editor should be commended for calling the attention of the public to a matter which is so often overlooked. Too often, public officials who take time out of their busy lives, to use their talents for the welfare and progress of their town, become discouraged because of unjust criticism, and withdraw from their activities, because the word of appreciation is unspoken.

What the editor says about the long and efficient services of those public officials in Quakertown, will apply equally as well to Bristol. He cites in his article, that the Borough Solicitor of Quakertown has served for eighteen years. In Bristol our Borough Solicitor, Howard I. James, Esq., has been solicitor since 1903, a period of thirty-three years. During his years of service, the Borough has passed through its period of greatest development. Shortly after his incumbency an application was made to the State Legislature to amend the Borough Charter so as to increase its borrowing capacity, and thus pave the way for the acquisition of a water works and a sewage system and disposal plant. This action precipitated a bitter fight which was prolonged for several years, and finally won through the efforts of our Borough Solicitor. The legal work necessary in the building of a sewage system and the taking over of the Bristol Water Works, which was a privately-owned utility, was performed by our Borough Solicitor, together with all the legal procedures necessary in the floating of a multitude of bond issues and the drafting of ordinances. And all the compensation received by him during the thirty-three years of his incumbency, has been a small yearly retaining fee. Surely in the long and unselfish service of our Borough Solicitor, we have an example of civic pride, that is worthy of the earnest commendation of our citizens.

The accomplishments of our Borough Engineer, John Roberts, give us another example of civic devotion. He came to Bristol in 1906, as the representative of the engineering firm that superintended the construction of the sewage system and the reconstruction of the Water Works. In 1917 he became the Borough Engineer and for nearly nineteen years has given faithful and praiseworthy service.

Another public servant whose work was actuated by a spirit of civic pride, and whose long term of service is worthy of our unstinted praise, was the late Henry H. H. Poole, who served as a member of Town Council for eight years and as Town Clerk and Borough Treasurer for 23 years.

Let us turn now to those who because of civic pride, have given their time for the welfare and progress of the town, without thought of compensation or reward. Joseph R. Grundy entered Town Council in 1891 but on account of the death of his father in 1893, and the consequent duties which he was obliged to take upon himself in the management of the industrial plant left by his father, he withdrew in 1895. In 1906 he again entered Town Council and for a period of 24 years, de-

PREDICT MORE SNOW
AND THEN COLD WAVE

Cold Winds From Northwest
To Hit Pennsylvania
Tonight or Tomorrow

BELOW ZERO, CHICAGO

More snow is predicted for tonight and another cold wave.

A chilling cold wave sweeping down from the northwest is expected to plunge Pennsylvania into bitter cold tonight, according to Weather Bureau officials.

Forecasting what might be expected here, Chicago reports 2 degrees below and Davenport, Iowa, 12 degrees below.

In Pittsburgh, the mercury raised to the upper 20's this morning, and Philadelphia reported a low of 30. But it was expected to drop rapidly at night.

The cold weather will engulf an army of WPA and state employees at work on the highways, battling the snow drifts of last week's blizzard. Even in the city, streets are still clogged with snow, despite efforts of crews.

PLAN A SUPPER

The Travel Club for its welfare fund will give a home-cooked supper at the Travel Club home, on the evening of Friday, January 24th. The supper, which is in charge of Mrs. Franklin Wallin and Mrs. John J. Hargrave, will be served as required from 5.30 until seven o'clock.

It was announced that at the March meeting, Mrs. John Flood, New Hope, will present the Association with the charter. Mr. Charles' class won the banner for the best P. T. A. attendance.

The program consisted of a radio listening group: the following shows the cast of characters: Announcer, Mrs. Kahn; broadcaster, Miss Rae Komenarski; Mrs. Friend, Mrs. Kish; Mr. Neighbor, Mr. Bloch; Mr. Friend, Mr. Kish; Mrs. Host, Mrs. Wendkos; Mr. Relative, Raymond Vickers; grandmother, Mrs. Ferguson; leader, Mr. Lange; Miss Librarian, Mrs. Lange; Mr. Host, Mr. Wendkos; Mrs. Neighbor, Mrs. Bloch; Mr. Principal, Mr. Charles; Miss Teacher, Miss Pyle.

NEW TAX EFFECTIVE
ON PERSONAL PROPERTY

State Imposes Additional Tax of One Mill on Savings
and Investments

REPORTED BY MARCH 15

The 1935 Legislature enacted what is known as the "State Personal Property Tax Act" imposing an annual tax, for State purposes, of one mill on each dollar of the value of mortgages, judgments, bonds, stocks, notes, etc. This one mill tax is in addition to the four mill personal property tax paid to the county. The following are made taxable:

1. Mortgages, irrespective of the location of the property on which the mortgage is secured, the residence of the mortgagor or whether interest is paid thereon (Except: 1. Those given by Pennsylvania corporations or by foreign corporations which pay the tax thereon to this State. 2. Those, the interest on which is paid by Pennsylvania corporations or by foreign corporations which pay the tax thereon to this State and which now own the mortgaged property.)

2. Promissory Notes or Bonds given by individuals, irrespective of the residence of the makers thereof or whether interest is paid thereon.

3. Judgments held by the person, firms or corporation making return.

4. Public Loans or Bonds issued by any State or Territory, the District of Columbia, any foreign country, or any county, city, borough, township school district or incorporated district, except those issued by the United States or the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

5. Bonds, Notes or Any Other Forms or Certificates of evidences of indebtedness, including car trust securities, issued by any corporation association, company or limited partnership formed under the laws of this State or the United States, or of any other State or Government, whether interest is or is not paid thereon (except loans issued by corporations of the Commonwealth or by such foreign corporations as pay the tax thereon to this State.)

6. Bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued by corporations of the first class (i. e., corporations organized not for profit, such as clubs and religious and charitable organizations.)

7. Shares of Stock of any corporation, association, company or limited partnership (except National Banks) formed under the laws of the United States or of any State, or any foreign government, except the stock of Pennsylvania corporations and foreign corporations paying a capital stock tax to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

8. Articles of Agreement and Accounts bearing interest.

9. Annuities yielding over $2000. This means the amount which, if invested according to established annuity tables, will produce the annuity owned by the taxable.

10. Stages, Omnibuses, Hacks, Cabs and other vehicles used for transporting passengers for hire (except Steam and Street Passenger Railway Cars.)

11. Other Forms of Securities or Evidences of Debt not shown above. In the return made to the Department of Revenue, the cost of each class in the aggregate and the income derived from each class must be stated.

Italians Advance

Rome, Jan. 22.—A sweeping advance of Italian troops, 237 miles west of Dolo, on the southern front, resulting in the capture of Boran Province and opening a new pathway to Addis Ababa, was announced officially by the Italian government today.

The victory claimed by the Italians was the greatest in the entire Ethiopian war, and all Italy led by Premier Benito Mussolini himself was joyous as a result of it.

Il Duce telegraphed General Rodolfo Graziani, southern front commander, who was in charge.

Boran Province extends all along the Ethiopian frontier west of Dolo, bordering on Britain's Kenya colony on the south and reaching into the southern section of Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian capital.

The action was far west and south of the province. It is believed the Italians might be planning to strike at Addis Ababa through a new route as well as to win the rich territory.

The victory was announced in today's military communique, which said: "On the morning of the 20th, troops of Denos Dracon, and the Aosta Lancers by brilliant and rapid action overwhelmed the enemy's resistance and occupied the capital of Boran Province, 237 miles from Dolo from which the troops started."

"The victory of the Doria River obtained by General Graziani, has thus liberated from the Ethiopians the country of Boran, and accepted by the sovereign of Italy."

King Returns to Sandringham

London, Jan. 22.—A few hours after being proclaimed King throughout the Empire, Edward VIII returned to Sandringham at 2.37 today, returning solemnly to the bier of his beloved father, the late King George.

The active young monarch at the last minute abandoned plans to fly back to Sandringham, greatly relieving the public, which feared for the safety of their ruler, as he made the trip from Sandringham to London by airplane yesterday.

Plans to fly were cancelled owing to "unfavorable flying conditions," it was announced, indicating that Edward will be a "Flying King" whenever weather permits, and that he will not give up a favorite mode of travel.

It was rumored that Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, who conferred with King Edward this morning, had persuaded the King to take the train back to Sandringham.

The Duke and Duchess of York and the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, brothers and sisters-in-law of the King, accompanied him to Sandringham. They left from the Liverpool Street Station.

BURGESS DECLARES
100 DAY QUARANTINE
ON DOGS IN BOROUGH

All Dogs Contacting Mad
Dogs Must Be Killed
At Once

OTHERS KEPT SECURE

All Dogs Must Be On Leash
And Properly
Muzzled

An official proclamation was issued today by Burgess Clifford L. Anderson declaring a dog quarantine in Bristol for a period of 100 days.

The police are continuing their war on dogs and yesterday seven more were impounded. Thus far, this week, the police have impounded 14 dogs.

The proclamation of the Burgess reads:

PROCLAMATION

Notice to Owners of Dogs

WHEREAS, there is reason to believe that the disease of rabies or hydrophobia exists or is likely to occur in the Borough of Bristol by reason of the fact that a number of dogs within the Townships adjacent to said Borough have recently been bitten by a dog suffering from said disease, and the nature of the disease is such that all dogs within the limits of said Borough must be suspected of being capable of spreading the same, and the welfare and the safety of the citizens require that all dogs within said Borough which have been so bitten shall immediately be killed, and all other dogs for the present be quarantined.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, CLIFFORD L. ANDERSON, Burgess of the Borough of Bristol, by virtue of the authority in me vested as such Burgess under the law, in pursuance of the provisions under an Ordinance of the Borough of Bristol entitled "An Ordinance Granting Authority to the Burgess to Issue his Proclamation Enforcing the Ordinance Controlling the Running at Large of Dogs within the Borough Limits," enacted the Ninth day of January A. D. 1882, do hereby proclaim and order that all dogs actually bitten by or which have been fighting with a mad dog, or exposed to the said disease of rabies, shall immediately be killed by the owners thereof, and in case the owner of any such dog shall neglect or refuse to put such dog to death immediately, legal proceedings against such owner for such neglect or refusal will at once be instituted and such dog ordered to be killed as provided by the Act of Assembly of April 1, 1834, P. L. 161.

That every dog that has been in contact with or close proximity to a mad dog, or exposed to the disease of rabies, although not known to have actually been bitten, shall be strictly quarantined on the premises of the owner and shall be muzzled with a well fitting muzzle which shall effectually prevent biting, and shall be tied up, chained and safely secured by a heavy collar around the neck attached to a substantial chain, which shall be safely fastened to a secure place, and shall be so tied up, muzzled and secured for a period of one hundred days from the date hereof.

All dogs within the Borough of Bristol are hereby declared to be in the state of quarantine and must be strictly confined or firmly secured on the premises of their owners, and not allowed to run at large or enter upon the streets, lanes or highways of the said Borough; PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that dogs which have not been exposed to said disease may be permitted upon the said streets or highways when led by a leash and muzzled with a well fitting muzzle which will effectually prevent biting.

This quarantine shall remain in force for one hundred days from the date hereof unless sooner removed by me or other competent authority.

The word dog as used in this proclamation shall be taken and construed to include not only dogs but bitches as well.

Owners of dogs are notified and warned that a disregard of this proclamation or the permitting of dogs to run at large within the said Borough without being led by leash and properly muzzled may lead to the destruction of their dogs, and that they themselves may be proceeded against in accordance with law and the above cited Ordinance.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the corporate seal of the Borough of Bristol this Twenty-first day of January A. D. 1936.

CLIFFORD L. ANDERSON,
Burgess of the Borough of Bristol.

Attest:
WILLIAM J. LEFFERTS,
Secretary.

A GRAVE DANGER

Borough and Township authorities are to be commended for the speedy action they have taken to stamp out rabies found to exist among dogs in Bristol Township.

They are determined that no stone shall be left unturned to wipe out this dread disease, which is a menace to human life as well as to animals.

Dog owners should co-operate in every way possible to make the quarantine effective and will thereby not only protect the lives of residents of the two districts, but the general public as well.

If you are the owner of a dog and a law-abiding citizen you will keep your dog upon your own premises and where it will not be likely to contact other animals or individuals. There is no positive assurance where rabies may be contacted and it is impossible for the owner of a dog running at large, to tell where his dog may go, when out of his control.

Keep your dog away from other dogs and the public in general until such time as the possibility of rabies has passed.

The situation is serious and it calls for the fullest co-operation of the residents and officials in the community.

LEARNING GOOD MANNERS

Where shall one go to school for manners? It is easier to ask the question, perhaps, than to answer it. Of course, it may be held that one's tutelage in manners should begin at home and be continued there consistently and continuously. But that assumes that manners exist in all homes, and we all know that they do not, and as that may be.

It is interesting, therefore, to read that a director of street traffic studies holds that today the truck driver is the "gentleman of the road." That is not without point, inasmuch as on the road is where so much of our bad manners is displayed. Consideration to and for others is a basic part of good manners. Inconsiderate driving becomes a part of bad manners. A gentleman is always considerate. Hence, he has good manners. When, therefore, this authority who have quoted declares that "truck drivers are the gentlemen of the road" he is saying that truck drivers are considerate of others when on the road.

In this connection, it may be recalled that someone said the other day that Americans are learning good manners at service stations. We do not know what higher compliment could be paid the many thousands of young men who daily service our cars quietly, efficiently, courteously and with a pleasant word of greeting, another of inquiry, and still third of parting.

Perhaps it is a strange school for manners that has opened to the public. But if so, it is none the less welcome.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

APPLES are the big news in this week's markets—cooking, eating and all-purpose apples are being featured at attractive prices. Fresh pork is cheaper and beef and lamb as well. Fresh eggs are now plentiful, and even the top grades are reasonable. Last week's lower price of butter has been maintained due to increasing production.

Many vegetables are in market—most of them fairly inexpensive. Worthy of special mention are broccoli, spinach, beets, peas and cabbage. Iceberg lettuce continues to be an excellent value.

Florida oranges, navel oranges, Temple oranges, tangerines, grapefruit and bananas are the outstanding fruits with the big exception of apples. Here are three menus at different budget levels for Sunday dinner.

Low Cost Dinner

Roast Shoulder Pork
Mashed Potatoes
Buttered Cabbage
Bread and Butter
Dutch Apple Cake
Tea or Coffee
Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Baked Ham
Sweet Potatoes
Spinach with Onions
Bread and Butter
Apple Pie
Tea or Coffee
Cheese
Milk

Very Special Dinner

Grapefruit
Roast Beef
Browned Potatoes
Brussels Sprouts
Lettuce
Russian Dressing
Rolls and Butter
Deep Apple Pie
Coffee
Cheese

Several people from this vicinity are attending the meetings in Philadelphia this week conducted by Ganga-wa, the Japanese evangelist, which are being held in the First Baptist Church, Holy Trinity, Friends Meeting and Grace Baptist Temple.

The Epworth League will hold a covered dish supper and entertainment in the church next Friday evening. The program will include an orchestra, a short sketch, recitations, vocal and instrumental solos. Proceeds are to help beautify the Sunday School room.

About $50.00 was realized at the recent supper given by the Junior class of the Langhorne High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Gorton entertained several guests from Philadelphia, Saturday evening.

"I put TERRAPLANE first because I put Safety First"

"Go ahead, kids . . . that car's got BRAKES!"

NO one needs to be reminded that safe driving in winter, more than at any other season, calls for a car that is safe.

Then why not start this new year with the "safest car on today's highways?" Terraplane—with more new and important safety features than any other low priced automobile ever had!

Bring Safety up to Date!

For safer riding, safer steering, safer stopping, Terraplane brings you Radial Safety Control (patent applied for). Here is a revolutionary principle of front axle and spring design which new owners from coast to coast are hailing as the greatest safety feature in many years.

None but the best brakes are good enough. And no other low priced car but Terraplane meets that demand with Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes (patent applied for). Latest and best hydraulics with a separate safety braking system that takes hold automatically if ever needed.

For added safety on the highway—greater steadiness on curves—two more 1936 improvements: Tru-Line Steering and the Rhythmic Ride.

Safer Bodies! Safer Chassis!

The world's first safety engineered chassis is now combined with America's first bodies all of steel, and seamless roof of solid steel.

There is extra safety, too, in Terraplane's record-breaking performance, to take you out of traffic "tight spots." And in the Electric Hand, an optional extra, for easier gear shifting and safer driving.

Drive safely in 1936—in a car that you know to be safe. Drive a new Terraplane.

Mrs. Sardon relaxed into the chair, ready for Inspector O'Brien's re-examination. "She was really most attractive" . . .

Sinclair. It seems strange. I have a son, but he does not go to the homes of his teachers.

"Where is your son?"

"He is at a military academy in San Rafael."

"I see. Go on, please."

"Miss Sinclair, I was saying, seemed a funny young woman. These boys came to see her, the tall dark man with the beautiful wife came."

"That night?"

"No, the Sunday before. The wife came the week before that and left very angry. She had so many callers, and she lived alone, not like the other teachers, in twos. I wonder about it all."

"Did any other people come to see her regularly that you have not mentioned?"

"She seemed to know lots of people. I do not recall any who came what you would call regularly."

"No friends from the high school?"

There was a very slight pause. Mrs. Sardon seemed to be trying hard to remember. "She had no close women friends, I would say. Once in a while Miss Tyrol and another teacher whose name I did not know came to call on her."

"Men?"

"I don't remember."

"Did you ever see Mr. Perkins there?"

Mrs. Sardon watched her own fingers pull at the tail of her fox fur as she seemed to think a moment.

"Yes, I have. He called to see her fairly often, I believe. He always left early, and I would see him as he went down the stairs."

"No!" she exclaimed.

"You are sure?"

She nodded.

"Now, then, Mrs. Sardon, suppose you tell us just what you did after you saw Melvin go down the stairs."

"I am not sure I can tell you exactly. I live alone, you know. The radio was going for a while, I thought he would break the glass."

"You can hear a great deal of what goes on upstairs from your apartment?"

"No," she shrugged, "but his voice was so loud. I was alarmed, and I came into the hall as he banged down the stairs."

"The time was 8:30?"

"About that."

"Tell us what else you observed that night."

"I saw no more. I returned to my apartment, wondering why a young boy should be so cross at his teacher. Then, too, I wondered at so many pupils coming to see Miss

PUNKIE ZEFFERI LEADS BUNNIES TO VICTORY

(By Jack Orr)

Punkie Zefferi went on a last minute scoring spree to lead his Bristol High School Bunnies to their fourth victory in five starts, as the localities defeated a band of sharpshooting sailors to the count of 26-19, on the local court last evening.

With the score deadlocked at 18-all, by virtue of Zeff's two-pointer, the Cardinal and Gray led by Punk Zefferi's deadly eye, scored eight points in succession to sew up the game for the homesters. Before the visiting gobs had a chance to catch their breath, Punk had hit the cords for a pair of field goals and as many charity throws to send the local crowd into an uproar.

Flute Schiffer finished up the scoring for the evening for Coach Bill Dougherty's crew by popping a twin-decker, making the count read 26-18. Robinson made one of his fouls count and the game was over.

The Bunnies piled up an 8-1 advantage at the end of the first period and things looked mighty good for the lads of the Cardinal and Gray. They lengthened their lead to an 11-3 edge before the visiting Annapolis crew could get going.

The Schoolship suddenly hit their stride, however, and with Burkhardt hitting the cords for four tallies, piled up seven points in a row to trail at half time 11-10.

After a slow start of the second canto, the Cardinal and Gray finally eked out a slight 16-13 advantage as the final period started. Then the Schoolship put forth one of their spurts and overtook the Bunnies to lead with three minutes to play. This brought the score to 18-16 and led it to its thrilling climax.

Punkie Zefferi led the homesters in their victory with four double-deckers and a pair of fouls, while Phil Carnvale was runner-up for the winners with three twin-pointers. Dick Pillman led the losing quintet one field and four out of five foul goals.

On Friday night the Dougherty-coached boys will attempt to protect their slight advantage in the Lower Bucks County circuit when they meet a revamped Southampton five, runners-up for the title last year.

WRESTLING WIND-UP TO BE BIG FEATURE BOUT

(TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 22—Tonight's wrestling windup at the Arena will pit Dick Shikat, former world's champion, against Joey Dusek, youngest member of the famous Omaha grappling family, in the best two fall out of three, 90-minute time limit fracas. Shikat, who has recently returned to this country after an extended visit to his native Germany, is one of the most powerful and tricky grapplers in the game. He is the master of almost every hold in the book and is efficient in the application of them. His specialty is the back-drop and when he fastens this tortuous grip upon his adversary it is generally curtains for his rival.

He faces a tartar in Joey Dusek. The "baby" of the family is an aggressive young bearcat and can be depended upon to give as well as he receives. He is a hustling, rough and tumble type of human dynamo, reminiscent of his brother Ernie and action is a foregone conclusion when he treads the canvas.

The Blue Mask, whose identity is puzzling mat followers, is slated to face tough opposition in the semi-windup in the rugged person of Rusty Westcott of Hawaii. The Mask made a deep but unpopular impression last week when he held Vic Christie to a draw. His best hold is the knuckle headlock.

voted his time and talents to the development of a better Bristol. His personal donations made possible the construction of the sewage system, the purchase of the Water Works, the rebuilding of highways and the completion of many other projects and undertakings, which has contributed to the welfare and betterment of the Borough. As the crowning act of his munificence, on December 26, 1927, he presented to Town Council a handsome and completely equipped Municipal Building and Fire Station, the cost of which was $250,000.

Burgess Clifford L. Anderson began his nineteenth consecutive year as a Borough Official at the beginning of 1936. He was first elected in 1917, having previously served four years as a Councilman, and since then has been re-elected in the years 1921, 1925, 1929, 1933. He has given his time freely, and loyally co-operated with Town Council, in all its plans for the town's betterment. His long association with the town's official problems, has developed in him an outstanding and helpful character in every phase of the borough's life. Its banking, fraternal and humanitarian activities look to him for advice and guidance.

Emil Metzger, treasurer of the Bristol School Board, has served continuously for a period of eighteen years. He gives considerable time and attention to his duties, and his knowledge of accounting, enables him to perform his work at a great saving to the taxpayers.

The late John K. Wildman, who died in 1905, had served on the Board for twenty years and held the presidency for eighteen years. The late Edward Foster was treasurer of the Board for 26 years and a member for 30 years. William H. Booz represented the first ward in the school board for over thirty years.

Doron Green, who is now president of the Bristol School Board, has been a member for over thirty-five years, and is serving his twentieth year as president. When Mr. Green was first elected a member, four school buildings were in use. The enrollment of pupils was about 800 and 22 teachers were employed. Today the Board owns seven school buildings, has a pupil enrollment of 2200 and employs 65 teachers. Mr. Green was a member of the committee which erected the Jefferson Avenue Building. As chairman of the finance committee, he supervised the financing of the two propositions, involving the purchase of the Harriman Building and the erection of a $72,000 addition. Mr. Green has never occupied a position on the Board for which any remuneration was paid, but has always given his services freely and gratuitously, having but one thought in mind, and that to upbuild the school system and increase its efficiency.

Martin J. Fallon, sitting as the representative from the fourth ward, is at present the dean of the borough legislative body. Mr. Fallon on January 13th took the oath of office as a councilman for the 33rd time. He has served continuously for 31 years, as a councilman from the district which he at present represents. He first took his seat in Council in 1904.

The editor of the Quakertown Free Press was right in his statement: "It is easy enough to criticize, but the people should take 'time off' now and then and pay tribute to those who represent them and conduct the borough's affairs. They are deserving of it."

In Memoriam

To George of England and Rudyard Kipling

Two old, old men, the sands run low
Life's journey done, and forth they go.
Son of a king, and a commoner's lad
Released of the flesh, grown old and sad.

Forth they go, to the Great Unknown,
The sailor long chained to a golden throne.

The quiet man, with the sea in his eyes,
Over the waters of death he flies.

The sails are full, and the waves run high,
And George the Fifth does not fear to die—

And the poet who rides with him today,
Will sing his king a rondelay.

Gold bread is heavy, and songs grow mute,
And old men hear the Reaper's flute—

God speed that quiet English king,
And the old, old man whose pen could sing!

JOINT MEETING HELD BY AUXILIARY AND A LEGIONNAIRES' GROUP

Miss Katherine Keating Presides at Session in Langhorne

LANGHORNE, Jan. 22.—The joint meeting of the Jesse W. Soby Post, 148, American Legion, and American Legion Auxiliary, conducted Monday evening in the Memorial House, was attended by 38 men and women. The session included the regular business meeting of the Auxiliary, with the president, Miss Katherine Keating, South Langhorne, presiding.

The Auxiliary provided funds for bugles for 28 girls who have entered the American Legion Junior drum and bugle corps.

A speaker from Philadelphia gave a talk on the Constitution, and members of the post spoke briefly on pertinent subjects.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Joseph Zalot and Mrs. F. Cassidy.

for its departed monarch and the foreign diplomatic world bidding farewell to an historic figure.

But today it was the good-bye of the villagers who knew him better than the outside world.

Through the ancient and beautiful, chance of the Church of St. Mary Magdalene passed tenants, estate employees, tradesmen, farmers—subjects and friends.

Meanwhile the new flying king, the Queen Mother, and other members of the royal circle were assembling at Sandringham to mourn together and to work out arrangements for the sad journey to London tomorrow, the lying-in-state in old Westminster Hall, and the funeral Tuesday at Windsor.

The gray-towered church dates at least from the 16th century—before that the records are lost. The silver altar beneath the soft light of candlesticks and stained glass windows is older than many life-times.

Memorials to Edward VII. and Queen Alexandra are there together with niched busts of Kings and Queens of old England and figures of men from the days when knighthood blossomed.

On the altar is a jeweled Bible and other gifts of Rodman Wanamaker, the American merchant, consecrated to the development of the bond of friendship of the English-speaking nations.

Meanwhile in London and all over the empire picturesque ceremonies of proclaiming the new king were carried out.

Passing by the King in his naval uniform, the estate workers knelt for a moment in prayer, and then gathered in knots outside the church to exchange reminiscences about the King.

They told how nine bullocks had been killed at Christmas for the King's pensioners at Sandringham. The butcher boy spoke up and related how he had met the King on a pathway and exchanged conversation with him about the quality of various meats.

Four-year-old Rosalie Dawn Ascot, daughter of the old King's favorite gun-loader, piped up with "Princess Elizabeth has no grandfather now."

Within sound of the church, cattle and sheep graze and royal pheasants feed on the heath.

A few miles away the rhythmic lullaby of "The Wash," deeply indented stretch of the North Sea coast can be heard.

History has been made at the Wash before. It was there that King John, fleeing from the Saxon patriots, was caught in a tempest and lost the crown jewels.

The jewels were dropped in the shallow sea, where they still remain—the objects of frequent treasure-hunts.

All day and tonight the body will remain in the little local church, until tomorrow it is placed on a gun carriage, and, escorted by Grenadier Guards, borne to nearby Wolverton station, with the King, Queen Mother, and other members of the family walking behind, or, if the weather remains bad, riding in motor cars.

NEWS BRIEFS

BUTLER—(INS)—In 1834 Joseph Graham, the first child born in Jefferson Township, became a Butler Count-ty Commissioner for a three-year term.

Now, just 102 years later, Howard Graham is following in his grandfather's footsteps. Howard was recently sworn as a county commissioner.

Find Body of H. Biddle Fidler

New York, Jan. 22.—Clad in evening clothes, the body of H. Biddle Fidler, social registerite member of the Biddle clan of Philadelphia, was found today on a ledge seven stories below his tenth story hotel room in midtown Manhattan. Police believe he should have come to Point Marion.

Two hours later Rene Freere lost his son of former Mayor H. Fidler of Philadelphia, registered at the hotel last night, giving his address as 517 Arch street, Philadelphia. That is the address of the Edwin H. Fidler Company, a cordage firm of which he was sales manager, and his father, N. Myers Fidler, president.

King Defys Tradition in London Flight

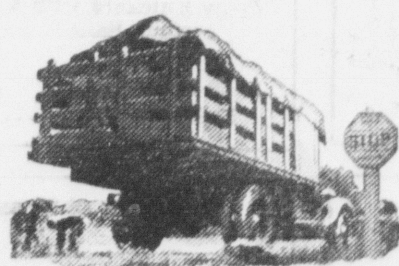

Radiophoto shows King Edward VIII, foreground, with his brother, Duke of York, in automobile leaving Sandringham palace for flight to London where Edward officially took over reign of his far-flung empire. This flight violated traditional conservatism of Britain's Kings, as Edward is first monarch of England ever to fly. (International Illustrated News)

The First time in the History of Bucks County Marty Green's Popular Store sets Precedent

We have just completed our ANNUAL INVENTORY and have been ASTONISHED at the unexpected INCREASE in our business for the year 1935. In spite of all the DEPRESSION, in spite of all the ADVANCES in the market, in spite of all the natural hindrances to business, last year WE WENT AHEAD. Truly there must be a REASON for this unprecedented and gratifying gain at the close of our Fiscal Year. OF COURSE, we did work harder—we did fight for better values—we did extend ourselves to SERVE YOU. All these things we have done to our best ability, as any wide-awake STORE SHOULD DO—BUT—we are not losing sight of this fact: YOU, our CUSTOMERS, have SHOWN your APPRECIATION by giving us your co-operation. WE OWE THIS SUCCESS TO YOU! THANKS TO YOU—WE MADE MONEY! NOW, we want to share OUR PROFITS with you. We have never before put on a SALE without a real honest-to-goodness, bonafide reason. But the only way to turn over to you some of our PROFITS is to give you an opportunity to SAVE MONEY and the only way we can do this is to run a SALE and reduce all our merchandise enough to actually put money in your pocket. WE ARE NOT OUT TO SELL A LOT OF UNSEASONABLE GOODS—we do not have to UNLOAD STOCK that was NOT SALEABLE. We will not buy any AUCTION goods for THIS SALE. NOTHING SPECIAL was bought for THIS SALE. Remember—only OUR regular stock is being sold to you.

—SHARE OUR PROFITS! Every item in the store will be tagged plainly with Sale Price. No GUESSING by our clerks. No PRESSURE—buy what you want. This will be a sale you will long remember A REAL MARTY GREEN SALE.
